Backgrounds

- Environmental Sciences, Bachelor, 1997~2000
- Environmental Microbiology, Master, 2001~2002
- Analyses of the soil bacterial community structure by FISH method at forest fired area and microcosm for restoration
- KOSEF-DAAD fellowship for Summer Student Exchange Course at Max-Planck Institute for Limnology, Ploen, Germany in July & August, 2002

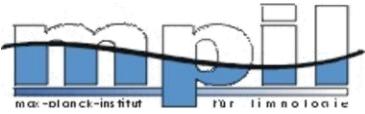

Prof. Tae-Seok Ahn
Bachelor & Master
Kangwon National University

Ok-Sun Kim
Microbial Ecology
Senior Research Scientist
Korea Polar Research
Institute (KOPRI)

Backgrounds

IFM-GEOMAR
Leibniz-Institut für Meeresswissenschaften an der Universität Kiel

Dr. Karl-Paul Witzel

Ph. D

Max-Planck Institute for Limnology,
Libniz-Institute for Marine Sciences

in the University Kiel

Ok-Sun Kim

Microbial Ecology
Senior Research Scientist
Korea Polar Research
Institute (KOPRI)

- Microbial Ecology, Ph. Doctor, 2004~2007
- Diversity of functional genes in the aquatic nitrogen cycle
- Soil, Lakes, the Baltic Sea
- Molecular Microbiology
- Biogeochemical cycles
 - Nitrogen, Sulfur, Methane

Backgrounds

- Post-Doctor, 2007~2010
- Curator for developing DB and tools for microbial ecology, EzTaxon-e DB
- Biocurator for Microbial diversity using pyrosequencing techniques
- National Research Laboratory, Fusion technology for isolation and taxonomy of unculturable prokaryotes
- The analysis of Microbial community in drinking water purification systems using pyrosequencing
- Platform bioinformatics technology for microbial diversity using next generation sequencing

Processes for making decisions

Three BIG Decisions for my career

- Studying in Germany for a Ph. D
- Coming back to Korea after Ph. D
- Getting a permanent position at KOPRI

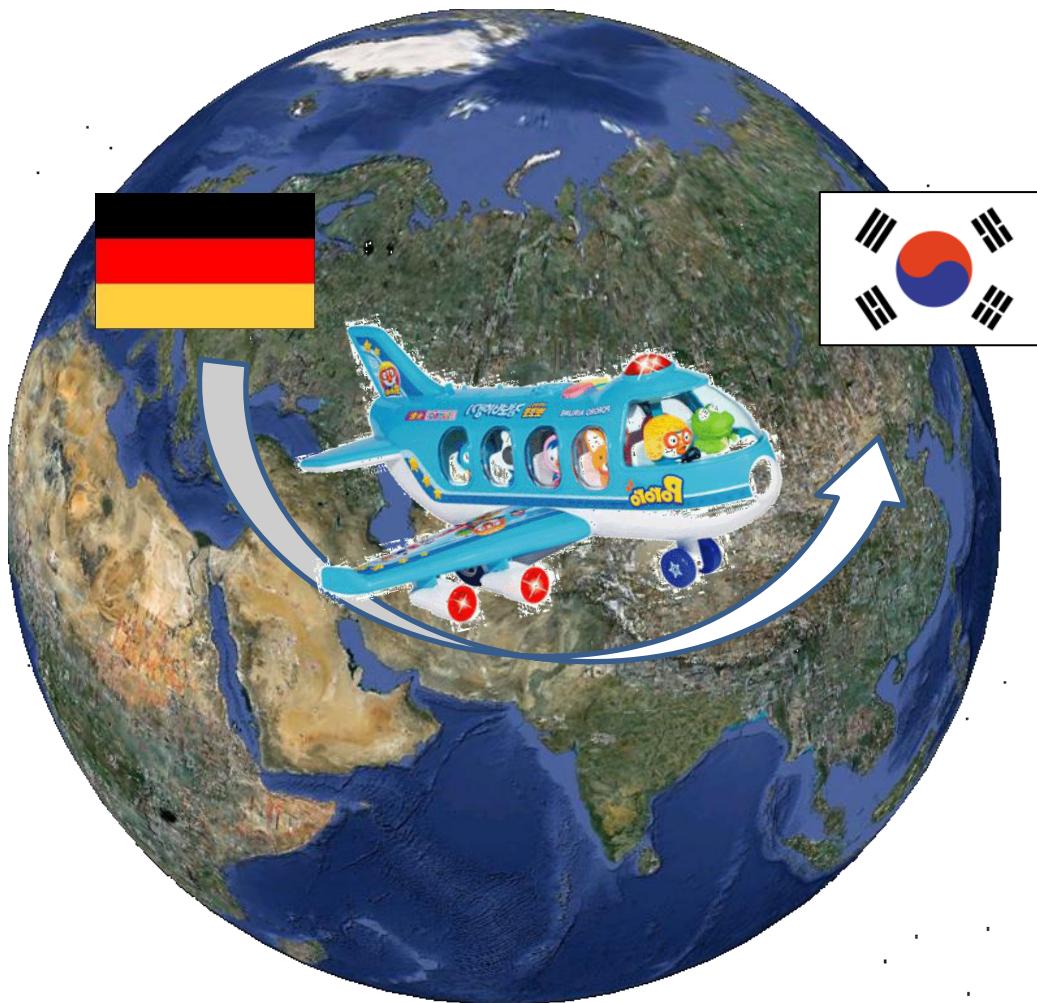

Processes for making decisions

Study in Germany for a Ph. D, 2003

Processes for making decisions

Come back home, 2007

Processes for making decisions

Get a permanent position, 2010

1st Trial in Autumn 2009
; Marine Biology

2nd Trial in Summer 2010
; Microbial Ecology
